CHAIRMAN'S CLOSING REMARKS

"Distinguished Delegates, Honorable guests, Ladies and Gentlemen:

After a week of field trip and six days of hard work at the Congress sessions and symposia, we have, like all good things, come to an unavoidable closing. I am gratified that the Congress, the first of its kind in my country, has been concluded with such splendid results. But my heart is also very heavy because we will soon have to say "good-bye" to so many good friends. I hope that our parting will be brief and that we will meet again soon, here or abroad.

Our world is constantly changing. During the last decade, we have witnessed tremendous advances in science. In order to maintain our place in the world's economic structure, our technology must also keep advancing. These I.S.S.C.T. Congresses, therefore, are of extreme importance to sugar industries all over the world.

Because of your hard work and cooperation, the 13th Congress, I am quite certain, will be recorded as one of the most successful in the I.S.S.C.T. history. The six topics that were discussed, and the knowledge gained therefrom will undoubtly benefit the sugar industries.

As has been decided, the 14th Congress will be held in 1971 in the city of New Orleans, La., U.S.A., a country with a well developed sugar industry. Like this Congress, I am certain the next Congress will also be fruitful.

As the outgoing General Chairman, I wish to thank you all again and to congratulate you for a work well done.

Besides, I am sure that all of you have formed some opinions about the manufacturing facilities and practices of the Taiwan Sugar Corporation, opinions that might be of great value to us. However, due to the tight Congress schedule, we have not heard comments from all of you. As President of the Taiwan Sugar Corporation, I sincerely hope that you will take the time and trouble to tell us, either in person or in writing, how we, in the Republic of China, can do better in the future. Your frank comments and suggestions will be most welcome. Thank you."
